Her aweetest song is nonghi to me. Compared to home's sweet harmony. Deep la the woods, the pightingale,

At hiddight hour, may tone her lay, hay pour upon the list aing yelo flor lovellest streams of melody : Lovely her midnight lay may be, But levelier's home's sweet harmony.

Hweet are the songsters of the spring, And of the summer's suppy days.

And autumn's frathered warblers sing In rapturous strains their sweetest lay! Lovely the songs of hower and tree, Rot leveller home's sweet harriday.

But oh, what cheers the winter night, When all pround is dark and gloom, When feathered congetors take their flight, Or fill a gloomy little tornb ! "I'ls at auch hours as these that we Prize most our haine's sweet harrony

.. Oh, when dark clouds above us lower, And life's drear winter o'er us comes, , Tis then we feel your magic power, Yo songsters of our hearts and homes; For roon the lowering clouds do flee From our dear home's sweet hermony.

BPEAK NOT ILL.

Nay, speak not ill I a kindly word Can never teare a sting behind : And, oh I to breathe each tale wo've heard Is far beneath a noble mind, Full oft a better seed is sown By choosing thus the kinder plan : Por if but little good be known,

Still let us epeak the best we can. Giveus the heart that falp would hide, Would fain another's faults efface; How can it please e'en human pride To prove humanity but bare ? Not let us reach a higher mood, A nobler sentiment of man : He carrest in the scarch of good, And speak of all the best we can.

Then speak no ill, but leniout bo To other's failings as your own; If you're the first a fault to see, Be not the first to make it known. For life is but a passing day, No lip may tell how brief its span; Then, oh! the little time we stay,

Let's speak of all the best we can,

A Correction.

To the Editor of the New Era.

DEAR SIR-I feel it to be my duty to say few words on a paragraph coutsined in Dr. Pyne's last letter purporting to be an ausweite an article in your paper of the 16th ult, refireting as it does on my widewed mother and her family. With regard to the conferersy between Dr. Pyne and his opponent, I have not nor do I wish, to have any concern, but when the Dr. indulges in those dark insinuations, shall not hesitate as to my day, in the matter, Dr. Pyno says-" I can only say in reply, that when the friends and relatives of persons who die auddenly, at night, manifest auch un unumal anxiety that one particular Coroner and no other, should investigate the cause, and in Dec Bection Committee the absence of M Sin, -I have taken this liberty of forwarding | furtherance of this de site sen I a private mes senger out of the district," &c. &c. I think, Mr. Editor, it would be difficult to conceive a more malignant insumulion then in contained in this paragraph. I will here state a fact of which Dr Pyne was not ignorant .ing neighborhood. I would just add-relet The femily did not manifest an unusual desire or a particular coroner; but having to send messenger to the Coroner's very door to juform | ried. my Sister and Brother of my Pather's decease, he also had instruction to inform Dr. Bull of without watching; they may do something the circumstance, and if this is sending the Commpany, wrong if you do. To be sure you never knew messenger out of the District, we are against To confident to do anything the property of the District, we are against the confident to do anything the confident to do any the confident to do any the confident to do anything t of its boundaries. The above teason together with the knowledge that Dr. Bull is a GENTLEMEN, is why he was sent for, and not as Dr. Pyne insultingly affirms, "through the injudicious advice of officious friende." With regard in the individual signing himself "a friend of deceased of 30 years, enanding," I have not the slightest knowledge of who he is; but of one thing I am certain, that whoover he may be, he was ong nixant of the facts; as more than one can voice! for the accuracy of his stutements; and if the " widow" did not tell him on his airival at the house, Nathaniel Paarson, at her request wont into the vittage of Newmarket and advised him of the fact, and on his arrival at the house when stating, to the three ladies, he speaks of that he would go to Mr. Lepper's and would be back at 3 o'clock, one of them said to him.

" thee had better stay there." Dr. Pyne says "that he and his friends, by their own ditements prove that long before was sent for, they had desputched a massenger for another Coroner," &c. The messenger was sent for the express purpose of apprising our relative of our irreparable loss, and inci dentally the Commer, and proves nothing as to whether an inquest was necessary or not, but under the circumstances we thought it but an act of justice to inform Dr. Pyne of the facts of the case in order to enable him, without any inconvenience to himself to adopt that course which common countery might dictate. I Remain, Yours &c.,

So far from confining the matter to what "a Wesleyan" calls solf-constituted delegates we were glad such a deep Interest in having the Church fairly copresented why was he not at the Convention and state his views and make his olivetions where they could be met and answered? and if he were there why does he not enswer the arguments put forth by the Rev.
